DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-21 are present for examination.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 14 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Both claims 14 & 20 lack a proper antecedent basis for the claimed "the first host" and "the second host" from their parent claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 12 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Miki et al (4,692,886)

Mikki et al (see Fig. 1) clearly shows a read/write memory device having a clock switching means (2) for switching between a first clock signal (10) and a second clock signal (12), a single-port RAM memory (30) module for storing data, and an area control for controlling the switch (26) so as also to synchronize with the two clock signals "selected" by the switch (20). For example, when the switch (26) is in its lower position, it automatically connects or obviously "synchronizes" with what ever clock signals appeared at switch terminal (20), and therefore the memory address (22) is also synchronized to be used with the memory (30 through the switch position (26) as claimed. Furthermore, if switch (26) is fixed, and switch (20) is alternated between up and down positions, then the two external clock signal sources (10, 12) are obviously seen as automatically "switched" and also allowed to access to the RAM (30) for both storing and recalling the stored data as well. See also col. 2-4.

Other claims such as "first host", second host", and "RAM clock" used for synchronizing two clocks contain allowable subject matter over prior arts of record.
